2025 call for

Combined Weizmann/Abroad Postdoctoral Program for Advancing Women in Science

For Ph.D. graduates from all Israeli universities with excellent academic and research track records in the natural or exact sciences

The program provides international research experience for outstanding women PhD graduates who are unable to relocate for a postdoc. It offers a flexible time between two host labs, with supervisors mentoring fellows in independent projects. Fellowships are awarded competitively based on academic excellence and include funding with enhanced travel support.

The program will provide a full postdoctoral fellowship for two years
(120% of the regular Weizmann postdoctoral fellowship)
In addition, 10,000$ per year for travel
